DEMAND THE BEST

Transform your deck space

PERMATEEK marine decking is an environmentally friendly composite decking system that offers the robustness and good looks of teak but with far greater durability and ease of maintenance. It has a roughened surface that looks like natural grain and which is highly resistant to sun, rain and seawater. Non-slip wet or dry, Permateek is cost effective, stain resistant and simple to keep clean.

Your deck will be designed and hand crafted from synthetic teak planks, with the same attention to detail as a real teak deck. Our professionally trained craftsmen provide meticulous hand-finishing with impressive detailing around deck fittings and curves.

Permateek marine decking can be fitted to almost any surface including GRP, wood and steel. Its flexible nature allows it to be shaped or contoured with ease. Once fitted, Permateek will enhance the appearance and value of any craft whether it be a super yacht, motor cruiser, power boat, sports RIB, sailing yacht or dinghy.

Holds its looks season after season

Not all synthetic marine decks are the same. Permateek marine decking is a very high quality product, made using only the finest quality virgin PVC materials. It is thermally welded, rather than glued, to form panels.

Permateek is one of the only major synthetic teak decking companies to have resisted the temptation to add lightweight fillers. Because we have kept to our proven formula, our product is stronger and more hand-wearing. It will hold its colour and keep its grain longer and be more resistant to wear, tear, knocks and scratches. It will not fade, crack, warp or shrink in the elements, requiring only minimal maintenance (washing) to keep it looking good season after season.

Synthetic Decking and Heat

For those concerned about synthetic decks and how hot they get in direct sunlight, the truth is all synthetic decks, just like real teak, will get hot. Permateek, in its original form, has always been among the cooler choices on offer and the lighter the deck colour you choose, the cooler it will be. That said, if it is a cool deck you require, you just can't beat white Fibreglass. If, however, like thousands of others, you desire the good looks of a teak deck with all the benefits of a synthetic alternative, then Permateek is an obvious choice.
