We make any kind of power and/or automation plants. We avail ourselves of an intimate knowledge which permits us to satisfy all the requirements of every kind of Customer, ranging over a wide variety of products from the industrial sector to the naval sector. We can easily offer assistance and competence on every step of the plant production, providing consulting services on the system design, installation, commissioning and maintenance. All these wherever you are in the world!

THE COMPANY

ART.EL. srl (LTD.) are a family-own company established since 1982 in Viareggio (Tuscany, Italy) addressed to industrial and naval sector. We started with the manufacture of Electrical Systems for yachting market. Subsequently we expanded our experience to industrial and all the shipbuilding industry. Nowadays we are a well-known reality in the above mentioned sectors, representing us as synonym of quality and efficiency. Like 30 years ago we focus our business on high standard Italian made products and nonstop technological improvements based on our experiences and skills.

The technical department, inside the headquarter, carries out projects counting on continuously updated computer and production systems, in order to find out the best customized and smart solutions for every kind of engineering project.

The two Company-own workshops are close and fully integrated themselves. This ensures at the different steps of the production process an uninterrupted cooperation and exchange of feedbacks and ideas between the engineers and the technicians making easier the problems solution and the development of the products.

Since 2012 the company has established a new separate branch in Singapore due to the big and continuous expansion of the trading towards the Asian market since year 2000.

GLOBAL ASSISTANCE

Due to our international attitude and in addition to the production we also provide to our customers a complete global service of assistance. For such purpose we have at your disposal qualified, well motivated expert staff for installation activities, problem solving and supervising of both our and external production plants.

NAVAL PRODUCTION

Our engineers are able to project the full range of switchboards typology such as distribution, power and automation switchboards in order to satisfy all the customer's needs. As said before, we even use to provide with all the switchboards related products that ensure at the customers to get a complete "all included package" for the whole electrical plant.

We have carried out prestigious projects for both cruise and merchant Italian and foreign Companies.

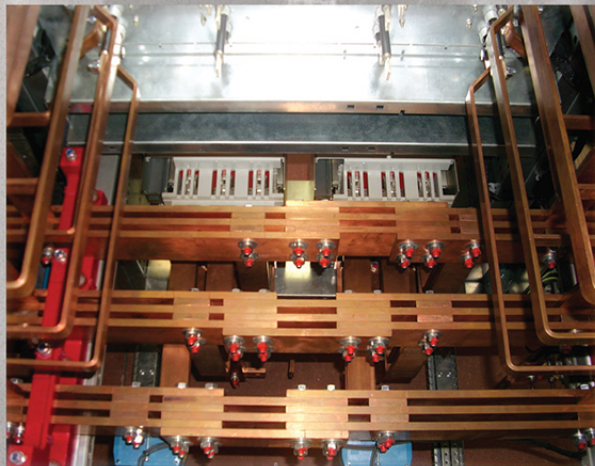

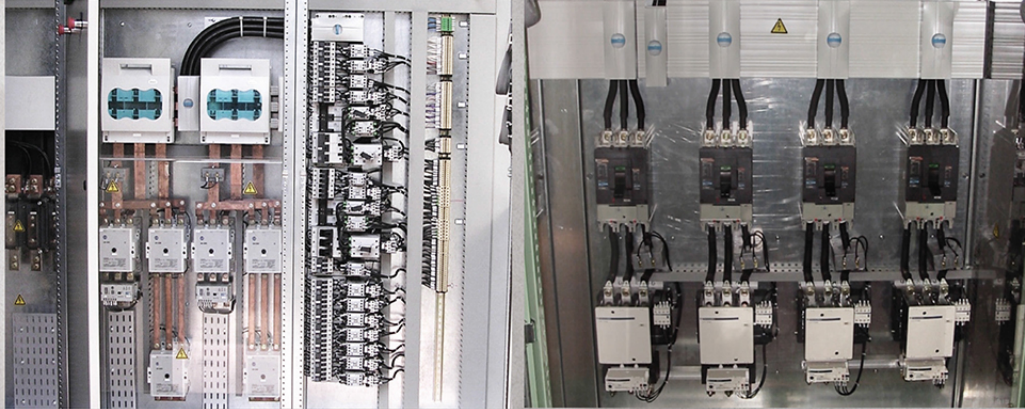

All the components used for the production and the whole final outcome are Class certified and tested by all the main international Marine.

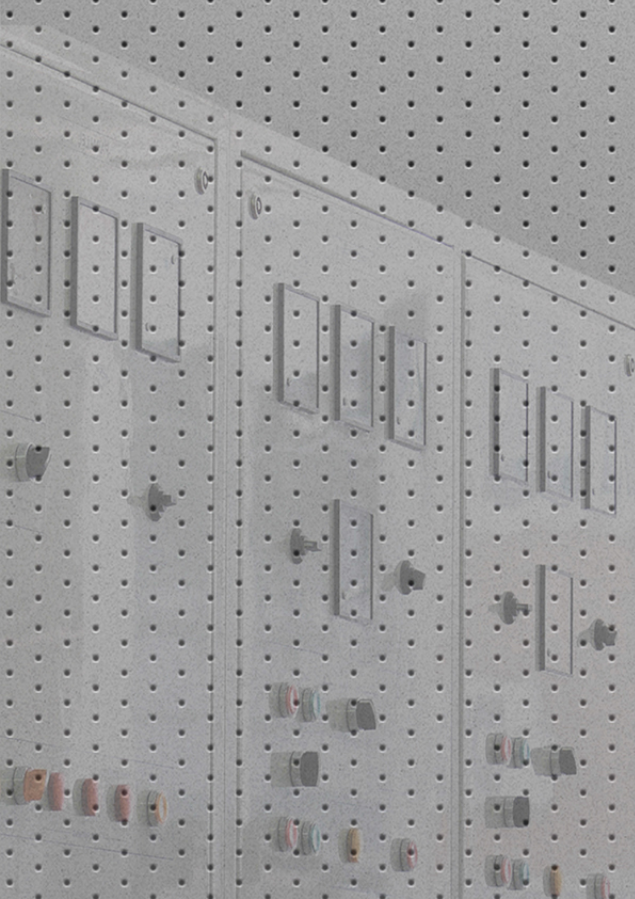

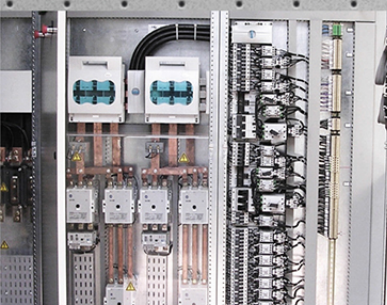

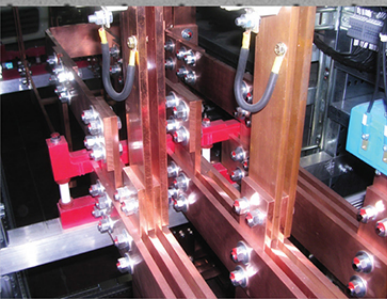

INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION

In this sector, in addition to normal distribution switchboard production, we have made gas refrigeration and compression plants for pharmaceutical and food industries. At last, on behalf of big multinational companies, we have made cogeneration plants with methane compressors.
