TOMORROW IN...

An aerial photograph of a shipyard. A large white crane is lifting several white yachts from the water. The yachts are stacked vertically, with the names 'LENCANTO' and 'Aster D' visible. The water is a deep blue, and the sky is overcast. The crane's structure is white with yellow accents. The yachts are white with dark windows and railings. The background shows a distant shoreline with green hills.

NO MATTER WHERE YOU GO

Based in Amsterdam and serving a global clientele, weshipyachts.com enables boat owners to follow their dreams.

We leverage on 30 years of experience in maritime transportation within the Nepa Group and centuries of Dutch sailing pedigree to move your boat to the cruising destination of your choice in a safe and highly professional way.

Offering an personal approach and a transparent process, the weshipyachts.com team will ensure your prized possession is handled with the care she deserves and arrives ready for you to enjoy. Now where would you like to go sailing?

YACHT TRANSPORT

You can fantasize about exploring the East Coast of the States but if your boat's in the Med do you really want to make a trans-Atlantic crossing on her own keel? Or perhaps you've spent a great season cruising the Caribbean but would now like to head for the cooler climes of Scandinavia: that's a pretty expensive voyage in terms of time and fuel.

Weshipyachts.com gives owners and their families the chance to explore new horizons in the comfort and style of their own boat without having to take her there in person. This offers you considerable savings in wear and tear, fuel and crew costs, and removes all worries about range. We are Dutch and we're dedicated to providing you with an excellent yacht transportation service that opens up a wide range of new destinations. Having us move your boat today to where you want to be tomorrow is the height of convenience. Bridging the oceans is our everyday job at weshipyachts.com – so let us know which form of transportation you prefer. From lift-on/ lift-off to float-on/float-off, we've got it covered on your behalf.

MARINE TRANSPORT

Drawing on the 30 years of experience of our mother company the Nepa Group, we know how to provide keen logistics solutions for commercial cargo.

No matter the quantity, weight or dimension, we ship the impossible. Our marine transport team is made up of specialists who are geared to providing the best solutions for every project, from windmills to machinery, from cranes & cables to hulls. Over the last decade alone we have engineered and executed the transportation of almost 150 barge hulls from all over the world to Europe.

5 STEPS TO GET YOUR YACHT SHIPPED

SKIPPER'S CHOICE

It's hard to hand over the things we love. To allow other people to transport your yacht when...

...as a skipper, you'd rather be at the helm yourself, or, as an owner, you'd rather have your captain at the wheel. Sometimes, however, the only way to explore new destinations is to have experts move your boat for you. And when you do, it's best to partner with people who are sailors too. That's why weshipyachts.com is the skipper's choice.
